A NEW LOOK AT THE OLD BOTTOM LINE

While there is no doubt or argument about radio's contribution to the development and growth of artists, both new and established, on a first exposure basis, the bottom line and final figure is always measured in the profit and loss column, a function measured only by sales.

We at CASH BOX, have always had a firm and unshakable commitment to the retailer, the one stop, the rack jobber, the giant national chain and the little mom and pop store in the neighborhood. Well, today we not only confirm that commitment but, wish to further increase it.

For our industry to show major growth and development for the future, new and exciting methods of communicating with and to the retailer, how ever large, how ever large, how ever small, must be developed and implemented. We are reviewing and developing new and exciting programs to accomplish these goals. Not only will we be increasing the numbers and types of outlets that we survey each week for information in helping us compile our charts, but testing newer and better ways to get information to and from retail locations by quicker and more reliable means.

We are most interested in hearing from retailers at all levels and from all parts of the country. We would like you to tell us what kind of additional information you wish to read and what kind of additional information you would like to make available to your contemporaries through the pages of CASH BOX.

In any event, retail activity is the life blood of our industry and we at CASH BOX are ready to inject the adrenaline and renew the emphasis on and for our friends at retail.

Michael Jackson Does Good: Provides 40 UNCF Scholarships

NEW YORK—Michael Jackson has provided 40 scholarships for the 1987-88 academic year through the United Negro College Fund, making the total of such grants to 97 since Jackson formed the Michael Jackson Scholarship Fund in 1985. The 40 students are to be selected by a special Michael Jackson Scholarship Fund Committee.

The MJSF provides financial assistance for a select number of "talented and gifted" students in the performing arts (with an emphasis on music) and communications. To be eligible for assistance, students must be nominated by UNCF institutions.

The Ramones And X Spur Return To No-Frills Rock

By Paul Iorio

NEW YORK - If punk is old enough to be dead, isn't it also old enough to be revived? After all, disco happened at about the same time and it has recently re-emerged. On this eleventh anniversary of the short-lived movement, people have been throwing dirt on top of punk. But new albums by X and the Ramones capture the spirit of the genre with a brand of no-frills rock that once again presents a challenge to the mainstream.

The Ramones single-bandedly invented punk in 1976, and X is largely responsible for popularizing a variation of it on the west coast with their 1980 debut album, "Los Angeles"

(Slash). Now, nine albums later, the Ramones have let loose "Halfway To Sanity" (Sire), and X has returned with a sixth album, "See How We Are" (Elektra).

Neither album represents a real departure for either band, though both records sound surprisingly fresh in contrast to much of what is currently on the charts. Several new Ramones tracks, including "Bop Till You Drop" and "Death Of Me," rank with their best work of the eighties; and X's "See How We Are" presents a stripped-down revved-up variety of west coast rock 'n' roll.

Though both bands have failed to CAUSE FOR JOY - CBS Associated Records has announced the signing of singer/songwriter Joy Winter to a long term exclusive recording contract. Her first release for the label is due shortly. Pictured at the signing (l - r): Mitch Tenzer, dir bus affairs, CBS Records; entertainment attorney Alan Arrow; Tony Martell, vp and gen'l mgr, CBS Associated labels; Joy Winter; and John Luongo, her mgr.

EMI-Manhattan Makes It Official

NEW YORK - EMI-America Records and Manhattan Records have officially become EMI-Manhattan Records. EMI, under the leadership of ceo Sal Licata, will be headquartered in New York, with fully staffed sales, promotion, A & R and publicity departments in the former EMI-America building in Los Angeles. Said Licata: "The streamlined name and newly designed logo {"EMI" worked into the existing "Manhattan" logo} strengthen the identity of our newly merged label."

System To Test In Stores In November

Enigma Inks With Personics

By Rob Yardumian

LOS ANGELES - Enigma Records has signed an agreement with the Personics Corporation to distribute selected releases through the revolutionary Personics System, which allows retail customers to create personalized, high-quality cassettes at various music retail locations. Four test machines will be unveiled in San Francisco area stores in November.

Along with the Enigma Records agreement, Personics has already secured the support of major labels like Warner Brothers, Capitol, Atlantic, Manhattan, and Elektra/Asylum.

Commenting on the agreement, Enigma president Wesley Hein told Cash Box "We're really glad to be the first independent involved. We're real strong believers in the system. To me, it makes a lot of intrinsic sense. We really want to be a major player in Personics." Enigma plans to initially involve "about 25 to 50 titles" according to Hein, with emphasis on current product. He anticipates that the metal band Stryper will be Enigma's major drawing card for teens using the system.

Personics president Charles Garvin is equally glad to have Enigma on board, stating "While Personics will shortly be announcing a number of other corporate partnerships, we have been working with Enigma longest, and are happy to announce their participation first among independent labels. We feel that Enigma as a company represents the kind of leadership that will set key directions for this industry over years to come, and we therefore see this as a completely natural affiliation for Personics."

The major advantage of The Personics System is that it is an affordable, high-quality alternative to home taping that will allow record labels and artists to recoup some of the millions of dollars in royalties lost each year in home taping. With the system, consumers will have the chance to preview and select music from a vast digital library located in the stores. Additionally, labels will have the opportunity to spotlight some of their lesser known artists through the in-store preview system. As Hein says, "If someone is cruising in to make a best of Madonna tape, and they look down and see one of our artists, say Agent Orange, maybe they'll click on an Agent Orange tape just to see if they like it. It's kind of a low-cost way for people to experiment with Enigma records. Our aim in this is not primarily 'let's combat home taping' as much as 'this is a great way for people to sample Enigma records.'"

Greg Ballard, Personics' vice president of business affairs, told Cash Box that the first four machines will be rolled out in the southern San Francisco area in November, providing the industry a valuable opportunity to observe the system in action before it goes nationwide. "The basic idea is to run them for three to six months, principally to establish the technology. We know the technology works, it's just a question of what breaks first. Before we start manufacturing these things en masse, we want to make sure we have the design right."

Two of the largest retail chains in the country, The Musicland Group and Warehouse Entertainment, Inc., have signed up to participate in the program. Ballard said that more chains have expressed interest in participating, but with the program still in its infancy, the two initial chains are the only ones officially signed at present. "We've had conversations

VCR And Camcorder Sales Shows Gains In July

CHICAGO—Sales of videocassette recorders (VCRs) and camcorders advanced in July, according to the Washington-based Electronic Industries Association (EIA). Sales of camcorders, currently the fastest-growing home video product, topped 116,000 units last month, a 22 percent gain compared with July of 1986. For the first seven months, nearly 700,000 camcorders have been sold to dealers, a 44 percent jump relative to the same period a year ago.

VCRs showed strength in July as well, expanding 10 percent to some 916,000 units. On a year-to-date basis, more than 6.6 million VCRs have been sold to dealers, a fractional increase over the 6.5 million units sold during the first seven months of last year.

EIA predicts that during the calendar year 1987, 13.7 million VCR's will be sold to dealers, 1.6 million of them camcorders. By year's end, EIA estimates that at least 50 percent of American households will own VCRs.

Color TV sales in July slipped fractionally, but year-to-date exceed 10 million units, a 7 percent improvement over last year. If this growth can be maintained, 1987 will go into industry record books as the best year in the 34-year history of this flagship product.

On the negative side of the ledger, sales of projection and black and white TVs declined 11 percent and 14 percent, respectively.

15 YEARS AGO IN CASH BOX

September 9, 1972—Talent on Stage: One-to-One Benefit, Madison Square Garden. One-to-One was a benefit concert to improve the substandard living conditions at Willowbrook and other similar institutions for the mentally retarded. It was the brainchild of John Lennon & Yoko Ono, who performed the feature set backed up by Elephant's Memory...Who is John Lennon, anyway, now that the dream is over? Was he only sleeping yesterday and today is he awake? The Beatles used to be a cause, but now that they are no more, John has found another worthwhile cause...This show not only helped the retarded children, it also gave Lennon a great reason for performing. After all, how can an ex-Beatle superstar be so common and capitalistic as to perform for money under normal, common circumstances?...The evening became more than a musical show, it was an event. While George Harrison's Bangladesh event revolved around the many different personalities all interacting at once on stage, John Lennon's happening focused into the narrower but more personal level of his own performance. This came out especially during "Mother," a song that bared John's innermost feelings. "Imagine" struck a sympathetic chord amongst the listeners, and was tastefully punctuated by rave-ups such as "Well, Well, Well" and the Presley classic, "Hound Dog." ("Elvis, I love ya!" John shouted during the song). It's easy to see how Lennon helped the Beatles to make it originally. He's a born performer, with super smooth stage moves that come from a precision sense of rhythm and plenty of aggressive drive. He knows exactly which vocal phrasings will capture listeners and at which time. His guitar work is a powerful vehicle when it comes to pushing a group sound out into the audience; he plays conceptually with tone and clever parts, rather than just mechanical riffs. Most of all, his presence on stage simply demands attention—John Lennon has the knack of getting people to watch him.

JOHN COUGAR MELLENCAMP
The Lonesome Jubilee—Mercury/PG
832 465-1 Q-1—Producers: Mellencamp/Gehman—Bar Coded

Jagged, earthy tales of hard times stretched taut on the welfare wire. This heartland rocker has matured into one of our leading chroniclers of domestic strife, weaving his sagas of hope and despair against the wide spaces and open air of Don Gehman's deadly production. Leading edge is still the guitar/drum interplay, but fiddle, accordion and female backing vocals work in counterpoint, sparking stark scenarios into bona fide, guileless life silhouettes.

LOVERBOY

Wildside—Columbia OC 40893—
Producer: Bruce Fairbairn—Bar

More propulsive, anthemic gloss-rock from Canadian veterans. This time they're taking no prisoners - this is a hard-charging, no holds barred effort destined to ring registers everywhere. The first single, "Notorius," is already off and running with a singles chart bullet.

THE CARS

Door To Door—Elektra 60747-1—
Producer: Ric Ocasek—Bar Coded

Despite the solo success of Benjamin Orr, this new record is all Ric Ocasek. With the band's original quirky edges essentially smoothed out by the rich production sheen, this one is a fastball right down the middle of the plate, destined for major mainstream acceptance at radio and retail. First single, "You Are The Girl," was second most added single last week.

NEW AND DEVELOPING

INSIDERS

Ghost On The Beach—Epic BFE
40630—Producer: Jay O'Rourke—Bar

Sparkling debut platter from Chicago club faves. The basic guitar/harmony approach is nothing new, but topflight songwriting and punchy production set it atop the genre ladder. From the catchy vigor of the title track single to the resigned minor chords of "Love Like Candy," these grooves spell potential with the capital P.

FEATURE PICKS

DAVE ALVIN—Romeo's Escape—Epic BFE 40921—Producers: Berlin/Linett—
Bar Coded

Former Blasters and X guitarist breaks free on his first solo LP, backed by his new crew The Allnighters. Thoughtful, soul-searching country-ish baladry vies for space with full-bore, gut-busting rockers guaranteed to jumpstart any reluctant pacemakers.

DeBARGE—Bad Boys—Striped Horse SHL 2004—Producers: DeBarge/C. Nasir—
Bar Coded

Without the support of El, Chico, or Bunny, the four remaining brothers use this chance to strut their stuff. The bopping, hopping good-time feelings of the first single, "Dance All Night," are echoed throughout the cool, funkified grooves.

THE TEXTONES—Cedar Creek—Enigma ST-73268—Producers: M. Stone/Tex-tones—Bar Coded

A passionate collection of committed, country-flavored rock with roots deeper than just the hundred foot palms dotting the Textones' home base of L.A. Carla Olson has the voice - warm and big enough to carry the message back to the Texas plains.

THE RAILWAY CHILDREN—Reunion Wilderness—Virgin 90636-1 -
Producers: Railway Children/Johnson/Garside—Bar Coded

Young British quartet with an airy, fresh, essentially acoustic approach reminiscent of Aztec Camera or early Icicle Works. This collection of singles and an EP is released stateside for the first time.

WENDY AND LISA—Columbia BFC 40862—Producers: Wendy and Lisa/Bobby Z.—Bar Coded

Talented and titillating tandem, previously Prince proteges, let loose on their own. Lushly produced, reflectively written, this record has the power to surprise most listeners.

SURF MC'S—Surf Or Die—Profile PRO-1235—Producer: Norman Kerner—Bar
Coded

The next logical step - a brash, bratty concoction of rap, grunge guitar, and surf music. Should hit both wave and sidewalk surfers with abandon.

LOLITA POP—Virgin 90620-1—Producer: Stefan Glaumann—Bar Coded

Swedish pop minus the bombast - starring an appealing, youthful air of innocence. Sound is uncluttered, unfiltered, but finely honed pop, led by Karin Wistrand's husky, emotive vocals.

DROOGS—Kingdom Day—PVC PVC 8956—Producer: Earle Mankey—Bar
Coded

15-year L.A. street veterans and seminal garage band cats are back in full force on this, their second full length LP. Produced by Earle Mankey (Concrete Blonde), the sound is ingratiatingly rough-hewn. Top 40 won't see the light, but should work well at college stations.

MOJO NIXON AND SKID ROPER—Bo-Day-Shus!!!—Enigma ST-73272—
Producer: Ron Goudie—Bar Coded

Wacky, head-scratchin', toe-tappin', hard-drivin' mania from Mojo and Skid. With tunes like "I Ain't Gonna Piss In No Jar," "I'm Gonna Dig Up Howlin' Wolf," and the blissfully daft "Elvis Is Everywhere," these psychos will never walk alone.

MOTORHEAD—Rock And Roll—GWR GWLP 14—Producers: Motorhead/Bid-

No quarter asked or given - forget American poseurs, this is the real thing. True British skullcrushing blues-rock, with rather unique vocals by Lemmy. Is this the ugliest man in rock?

A DIFFERENT KIND OF ARMY - "I should have been born in another century, I've decided. An earlier one - there won't be many later ones. Not for humanity, anyway."

So speaks Justin Sullivan, front man for the hyperkinetic British quartet New Model Army. But then Sullivan, whose nom de stage is Slade The Leveller, is not one to shy away from controversy. Neither is his band, who recently made their second trip through Los Angeles and played a vigorous set at The Variety Arts Center on August 15.

After we were shoed off the roof of the famed Capitol Records tower in Hollywood by nervous label execs, Sullivan and Army drummer Robb Heaton sat down to chat with Points West.

Sullivan is a firm believer in the classic three minute pop song form, although NMA's romps usually last longer and have more raw energy than any 60's nuggets imaginable. But in the end, it comes down to "folk music. That's all pop music is. I don't go for all this pretentious arty crap. Recording artists," he said with a sneer. "We're not artists. We're pop musicians."

Perhaps the best way to sum up NMA's approach to songwriting is the variety of thought and purpose that can go into a simple pop song. As Sullivan puts it: "You're driving through the English countryside, and you come across these barbed wire fences, foreign soldiers, cruise missiles, and you go write '51st State.' You start to see through your relationship with your parents, you write 'Heroes.' When you come across some guy at Glastonbury Festival selling acid to a 12 year old, you say 'No' and you go and write a song."

When listening to NMA, the aspect that first grabs you is the galloping, propulsive, relentless drive of the music, but it is the politics of the band that have grabbed the headlines. Our illustrious State Department has refused to grant NMA entry visas at least twice, stating that the band had no "artistic merit" to warrant their entry. Who is the resident rock critic on Capitol Hill these days, anyway?

Don't get the wrong idea - these guys are not on some kind of crusade. In fact, they would rather leave behind the image of soap-box preachers, because they want fans to enjoy NMA for the music as well, not just the message. "Half of our fans in England don't give a damn what the message is. They just like the music, the feel of the group, the attitude," says Sullivan. "In the end, I hope the American audience will be like that, that our music will appeal to some people, and others will be attracted by the lyrics."

But, per usual, it is the message that gets the ink, especially the openly anti-Western feelings espoused in such controversial anthems as "51st State" and "Master Race." Of the latter song, Sullivan contends "That's really about western society in general. America, Western Europe, Japan, Australia. The most violent, the most successful society.

"They've succeeded in wiping out almost every other civilized society, and the rest of the world is now like a client state. Even the Soviet Union is in many ways a client state. Economically, the West, including Western Europe, runs the world. There are probably a few tribes left in the Amazon, New Guinea, that still live off nature, maybe six or so. We're just about to wipe them out as well. Quite an achievement, really. Wipe out the tribes, wipe out the whales, wipe out quite a lot of things."

As for the band's recently completed trek across America, almost nothing went according to plan. The band bemoans the lack of preparation and professionalism involved at the club level circuit in this country, as opposed to the rest of the world. "One thing that surprised me about America is that being a rich successful economy, in theory, it should be efficient. It ranks alongside Italy as the most inefficient nation I've ever traveled in. Nothing ever works, nothing ever turns up on time at the level we play at."

Drummer Heaton concurs: "Everywhere else you play in the world, the equipment enables you to be the band you set out to be. In America you're not allowed that. After about a month or six weeks, you get bloody pissed off about it. It's starts getting tiresome, and it starts having a bad effect on your opinion of America."

What else pisses off New Model Army? How about lack of fan response at American gigs, admittedly a major problem here in laid-back California: "Gigs we play in England are like a battle between us and the audience of who can wear who down first," said Sullivan. "It's brilliant; it's like they push at us and we push at them. It's very intense and exciting. Here we find we push out and nothing comes back."

Sullivan and the band's views on success are equally unique: "Someone asked us about success, and Robb said 'We've succeeded.' He's right, too. Anything from here on in is a bonus. We have, in a small way, affected the lives of a small number of people. What the hell more do you want from your music?"

Shanice Wilson: Superstar On The Rise

By Tom De Savia

A&M records is on the verge of releasing "Discovery," the debut album from newcomer Shanice Wilson. Big plans lie ahead for the LP, and the label is banking on the artist to garner exceptional immediate media and consumer attention. What makes Shanice so special? ...Well, first of all, the gifted vocalist is all but 14 years old. One can hardly tag her as a novelty though, as Ms. Wilson possesses one of the most powerful voices heard in pop music for quite a while. At 14, Shanice is no stranger to the spotlight - at 11 years old she appeared on the syndicated "Jr. Star Search" and walked away with first place.

A little over three years ago, A&M senior vice president John McClain caught Shanice appearing locally in the play "Get Happy" and signed her on the spot. Shanice recalled "...I did 'Somewhere Over The Rainbow' and that's how everything got started, they wanted to sign me after they saw the show." McClain emphasized "She had the most incredible range of any singer that I'd heard in a long time... what was so astonishing was that she was just 10 years of age and appearing in an adult play. I went backstage and told her how great she was and she told me that she was nervous because she knew I was out there and she said she thought she'd gone a little flat. I told her that I had pretty good pitch and it didn't sound like it to me, and she said 'yeah, at the end there I sort of wavered a little bit and went a little flat.' What blew me away was that you could have a ten year old girl that was able to critique her performance, it was astounding to see such a professional at such a young age." He concluded, "She's really something special and I know she's going to be around a long time.

She's only going to get better..."

Shanice is truly a musical protege - her mother and aunt are professional singers and her father a guitarist. It didn't take long at all for Shanice to join their ranks, she revealed "I was singing melodies at seven months..." and her mother has the tape recordings to prove it! Once Shanice discovered her gift of song, there was no way she could stop, she modestly explained "I guess I was born with it," continuing "...at three years old, professionally, my mother would bring me up on stage and I would sing."

Shanice lists her mother as her main influence throughout her life, her support and encouragement have helped her greatly over the years. The continued support from her friends have made the rigors of inevitable stardom easier "A lot of my friends were happy for me," she explained, "...that helps a lot."

The LP will be released on September 29, with the advance single "(Baby Tell Me) Can You Dance" surfacing on September 1. The project was undertaken with Bryan Loren at the production helm. Wilson speaks highly of Loren, especially of their chemistry together in the studio. "He's a lot of fun, he's like a big brother to me. We had a lot of fun working together."

Shanice talents stretch far beyond that of just a gifted vocalist, she helped co-write many of the LP's

TALENT ON STAGE

Run-D.M.C./The Beastie Boys

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NY - "They said there'd be racial tension here tonight," said Joey (Run) Simmons of Run-D.M.C., at their show here August 17. "But I see white and black people everywhere. This is proof to the news and the media that we can get together and have fun without any trouble."

Even though the show went off without incident, the place looked like a police convention. In a blatant show of overkill, more than 800 cops - on horses and motorcycles, in paddywagons and helmets - hung-out inside and outside the arena waiting for disturbances that never happened. What's more, all 20,000 attendees had to file through a metal-detector doorway just to get in. But the fact is, most came to do nothing else but dance and listen to the two greatest groups in the rap world.

Run-D.M.C. sounded like the grand old men of rap, while the Beasties acted the part of snotty, inventive upstarts. If the Beasties made Run seem somewhat old-fashioned, it was Run that got the crowd going and the floorboards shaking. As Jam Master Jay turntable atop a platform, Daryll (DMC) McDaniels and Simmons rapped aggressively to pumping, stomping rhythms. Most effective was their early material, particularly the minimal "It's Like That (And That's The Way It Is)," which sequed into a forceful and exciting "It's Tricky."

The Bears

By Rob Yardumian

LOS ANGELES - Yes, they might be the Cash Box New Faces To Watch this week, but these Bears are anything but new. In fact, three of the four have been playing together since they were children. The kick is, the fourth member is ace guitarist Adrian Belew, who has gigs with Frank Zappa, David Bowie, Paul Simon, Laurie Anderson and King Crimson to his credit.

The Bears are actually a result of two bands, The Raisins and Sweetheart, who were playing the same Eastern club circuit in the mid 1970's. Zappa "plucked" Belew from the ranks of Sweetheart but he remained friends with The Raisins, dropping in to see them when he got the chance in between superstar gigs. "Whenever I was in Cincinnati, I would go see them and sit in with them. I'd tell them the stories about what I was doing with David Bowie or whoever, all the exciting details of rock stardom (laughs)." Belew also managed to find time to produce the Raisins' independent LP in 1983.

This friendship eventually blossomed into The Bears, a natural result of past collaborations. "It was never really the right time for me (to form a band) until now," stated Belew. "There's a very unique quality to the Bears that doesn't usually exist in bands - we play music together because we dig each other." This shared sense of "all-for-one" is evident in the synergistic continuity of the Bears' mid western pop grooves.

The immediate ear-catcher of the Bears' soon-to-be-trademark sound is the "East meets Midwest" tonalities of the Orient that haunt the album. They provide an unusual flair, a distinctive spark setting this effort apart from other American pop bands relying on synth-guitar lines to form the melody. Says lead conjurer Belew, "We wanted to write pop songs in a fairly standard format, but we wanted to orchestrate them in an unusual manner. I think that the band has a lot of potential, and over the next five albums we could go in a thousand different directions, but right now we want to create a trademark Bears sound. We wanted to have the two man Everly Brothers harmony upfront, and then behind it have these snake-charmer sounds and stuff."

The fresh approach works well, especially on cuts like "None Of The Above" and "Man Behind The Curtain." A somewhat more straight-ahead track, "Trust," has received the Belew remix touch and will be released September 8 to Top 40 radio.

Belew is pleased with the results of the first Bear effort, and all signs point toward a favorable hunting season ahead. His career as an in-demand session axe man are over, at least those gigs that only require perfunctory nods to his former King Crimson theatrics. "I much prefer the delineation that I have now, which consists of expressing my more personal, artistic things on my solo albums and putting all the rest of the things that seem to work better in a band context into the Bears. I feel that the Bears are a really unusual band with the chemistry and the friendship, and I think we should be around for a long time."

quired the least embellishment ("You Be Illin," "It's Like That"), since an arena tends to round off the edges and blunt the definition of songs like "King Of Rock," which features power chords over a hip hop beat.

Conversely, The Beasties fared better with rock than rap. Cuts like "She's Crafty," which ingeniously splices in the riff from Led Zeppelin's "The Ocean," and "Rhymin' and Stealin,'" which ingeniously splices in the drum intro from Led Zeppelin's "When The Levee Breaks," played off an arena-rock rather than hip-hop dynamic. When they tried for something minimal though, as on "The New Style," it was all bass flutter, and it sounded like a plane going through turbulence while flight attendants shouted over the din. In this sense they're the opposite of Run-DMC, who can manipulate even the sparsest of beats into something undeniably grand.

For this homecoming, Run-DMC called for the Beasties to join them for the set-closing "Walk This Way," and at first it looked like a bootleggable moment in rap history was about to happen. Unfortunately, more than two dozen roadies and guests appeared on stage too, reducing the impact of the Run/Beasties pairing.

In sum, it was a celebration of a musical form unique to the 1980's: rap. As with any new form, many don't quite understand it and therefore find it threatening. But the sight and sound of 20,000 fans chanting, dancing, and waving their arms in the air is proof that rap is not going to go away now or any time soon.

WHEN I wrote in the May 23d issue of Cash Box that the "La Bamba" soundtrack album "should be a hot item this summer," about the only ones who agreed with me at the time were Los Lobos and its publicists. Currently in the top three, the Slash/Warner LP is a major triumph not only for Los Lobos, but for new music in general. Ironic that a remake of a '50's classic would do it for them, but if that's what it takes to bring a mass audience to the band's original work then the irony is beside the point. Some of the people who attended their smashing Pier 84 show (8/22) apparently hadn't known of the group prior to the film and wanted only to hear the Ritchie Valens hit (the beer guzzling stockbrokers sitting in my area were even saying as much). But gradually Lobos's magic captured the newcomers, exposing them to a global garage-rock they might never have heard otherwise. There seems to be a hunger in the pop audience these days for ethnic-provincial sounds, as evinced first by the Pogues' brand of traditional Irish music, then by Paul Simon's Mbaqanga foray on "Graceland," and now by the Los Lobos blockbuster. Perhaps it's a reaction by mass culture against today's glut of homogenized AOR sludge-rock, or maybe it's just a hip outgrowth of the public's current taste for so-called classic rock. Whatever the reason, when Los Lobos closed its set with "La Bamba," the number one song in the country, the place exploded and people danced all over the place. Their success should remind us that the mainstream constantly shifts its boundaries to include newcomers, and that hits come from the unlikeliest places. After all, who would have thought one year ago that Mbaqanga would have caught on in a top ten way or that a band of nortena-rockers would hold the number one spot? Once again, risk pays off.

Opening the Lobos show was The Smithereens. While most support acts are usually ignored or patiently endured or (as with the Dinivyls on the Pier in '83)

ROCK POSTERS - The hot rock book of the fall season is likely to be Paul Grushkin's The Art Of Rock: Posters From Presley To Punk (Abbeville), a coffee-table collection rare rock-art. Above: a poster announcing Led Zeppelin's five-night stand in 1975 at Earls Court Arena in London.

pelted off the stage, the Smithereens were treated like the main event - and not just by people in the front rows where one would expect such adulation; way in the back there was recognition applause for many of the songs, and fans everywhere were air-guitaring to "Behind The Wall Of Sleep" and "Blood and Roses." The band's follow-up to "Especially For You," slated for release early next year on Enigma/Capitol, should break them wide open - and certainly assure them a headlining spot at the Pier next summer.

DOWN UNDER - Australia's Hoo Doo Gurus play the Ritz September 19. The band's latest album is "Blow Your Cool" (Big Time/Elektra).

BRIEFINGS - Gary Lucas, CBS Records producer/creative services exec/ex-Captain Beefheart guitarist, is off to London this week to record guitar tracks with the Woodentops for their next album, slated for release by Columbia in January....The hottest rock book of the fall season will probably be the upcoming The Art Of Rock: Posters From Presley To Punk (Abbeville), a coffee-table collection of rare rock-posters compiled by Paul Grushkin. Among the highlights: a full-color reproduction of a poster promoting the Beatles farewell concert in San Francisco's Candlestick Park (on a bill with The Cyrkle, The Ronettes, and the Remains); a splashy Rolling Stones '81 tour announcement; and an advertisement for The Velvet Underground and Nico live at The Trip. Grushkin, also author of The Grateful Dead: The Official Book Of The Deadheads (Quill, 1983), spent two years finding these rarities, over 1,600 of them in all, most in full color....A first listen to Squeeze's new album, "Babylon And On" (A&M), indicates it's the band's best album since '81's "East Side Story," which is to say it tops such later records as "Cosi Fan Tut'i Frutti" and "Sweets For A Stranger." The first single is "Hourglass." More later...Upcoming New York area shows include: The Ramones Sept. 10 and 11 at the Ritz; the Hoodoo Gurus Sept. 19 and the Del Fuegos Sept. 26, also at the Ritz....Relativity recording group The Brandos play CBGBs Sept. 5 and the Volcano Suns are there the night before. Pussy Galore headlines CBGBs August 29....The Fleshtones, now on Emergo Records, play the Lone Star August 28 and 29, and Vassar Clements is there August 30....Dumptruck is at Maxwells' August 29 on a double bill with Walking Wounded...The Grateful Dead, fresh off their tour with Bob Dylan, come back to New York for five nights at Madison Square Garden, Sept. 15, 16, 18, 19, and 20....David Bowie also returns to the area with two shows at the Garden September 1 and 2.

ALPHABETICAL LISTING ON INSIDE BACK COVER

BLACK POPE CAMPAIGN—In our continuing series focusing on black music, radio and 35+ announcers we spoke with Gary Richardson station manager of WJLD Birmingham, Alabama. He spoke very excitedly about the Bring Back Black Pope Campaign. A week prior to the return of legendary radio personality Shelley Pope, WJLD ran the aforementioned promotion and gave away Pope T-Shirts during a live remote broadcast which attracted some 1200 listeners.

During and after his first show the station was overwhelmed with non-stop phone calls. Listeners wanted to know if his return was temporary or permanent? Richardson and his staff assured the listeners it was permanent. Gary said, "Shelley has altered his style somewhat, he doesn't use as many drop-ins as before." He further stated, "Pope is perfect for our station because we are strictly targeting adults 25+ and he captures that audience, as well as commands a tremendous teenage following. I attribute this to his great personality, because he can play a Blues song and the kids will call while he's not playing their favorite rap song, but they continue to listen and follow him."

Richardson went on to say, "black radio has and is being exploited in a sense." He spoke about an Urban and CHR station in Birmingham, "where the Urban stations' numbers are declining because it appears that black people are caught up in the novelty of white djs' or white stations playing black music. It isn't the fact their programming is superior or the music is better, because they are playing the same music you hear on black stations. Blacks have migrated to these stations in great numbers, particularly the 18-34 demos, who have not experienced the hardships and trying times older black adults have gone through, therefore there is a lack of appreciation for black radio in general. If it were not for these stations in Birmingham, the effect of the civil rights movement would not have been what it is today. This listener movement is not only happening here, but in markets around the country-how quickly we forget!"

Mr. Richardsons' comments certainly tie in with our previous topics dealing with 35+ announcers, the need for black radio to entertain, inform and educate their listeners and the real crossover music Gospel, Blues, Jazz and R&B. Remember, A MIGHTY OAK TREE SEPARATED FROM

ITS' ROOTS WILL SOON DIE.

BLUES WEEKEND—During a recent conversation with Rick Stevens program director of WCKX Columbus, Ohio, he was bubbling over with excitement about his special live broadcast from The Ohio State Fair the past two weekends. The significant feature of the broadcast was the playing of Blues music by some of the all time great Blues makers.

According to Rick and the reports I have gotten out of Columbus the listener response was nothing short of sensational. Rick, along with many other top programmers around the country are winning big by incorporating the blues into their formats.

WIBB-AM #1—Congratulations to Big George Threath, program director WIBB-AM Macon, Georgia and his fine staff on being the number one AM station in middle Georgia for the 6th consecutive year.

George, a nine year veteran with WIBB attributes the stations' success to loyal listenership and the continuing popularity, consistency and longevity of his announcers who are always in touch with the community. The station has maintained the same basic format for its listeners since 1956, by offering a Variety of programming for all segments of the audience.

BLUES RETURNS—Singer, songwriter and producer Leon Haywood and his staff at Evejim Records are aglow over the initial response to their first blues album entitled Dirty Work Going On by Lil Joe Blue. Sylvia Smith, a gifted vocalist, who serves as president of the label went on to say, "after a decade or more of blues being virtually forgotten, whereby radio had turned its' knobs off to this art form, The Blues Is Back and we as industry people must not let it die."

SUCCESSFUL RAPPER—Industry veteran Jack "The Rapper" Gibson's Family Affair 87 was an overwhelming success. According to all reports this was by far the biggest and best gathering of Radio, Records and Recording persons in the history of Black Conventions.

Jack received a nice letter from Michael Johnson, vice president, promotion and marketing Wing Records. The following is an excerpt: "Sometimes we as black executives get caught in the web of being Professional. We then lose focus on our responsibility. That responsibility is remembering our culture, our blackness, remembering that all of us should look out for each other because we are all Family. BOB LONG

ON JAZZ

TV, TV, TV - WNET's Jazz Tonight series, which airs jazz programs over New York's Channel 13 every Thursday night at 11 p.m. (and will through October), has lined up its September shows. Look for The Fairer Sax (about, naturally, a female saxophone quartet), part six of Women In Jazz, and Michel Petrucciani Live at the Village Vanguard (Sept. 3), Sun Ra: A Joyful Noise and David Murray Live at the Village Vanguard (Sept. 10), Courtney Pine and the New Jazz and Joe Turner (a one-hour concert film from 1980) (Sept. 17), and Art Pepper: Notes From a Jazz Survivor and Ernie Andrews: Blues for Central Avenue (Sept. 24).

CRESCENT CITY SOUNDS- Jazztown is the name of a 13-part radio series on contemporary New Orleans jazz, set to air over public radio stations from October through December. A project of the Louisiana Jazz Federation, along with stations WWNO and WWOZ, Jazztown will be hosted by Ellis Marsalis and will feature interviews, commentary and digitally-recorded live music. The worthwhile project will spotlight Alvin Batiste, the Improvisational Arts Quintet (led by Kidd Jordan), the New Orleans Saxophone Quartet, Earl Turbinton, Ellis Marsalis, Fred Kemp/Smokey Johnson Quintet, the Young Tuxedo Brass Band/the Rebirth Jazz Band, Germaine Bazzle, Alvin "Red" Tyler and James Rivers, the Chester Zardis Band/the Placide Adams Band, Tony Dagradi and Astral Project, Steve Masakowski and The Dirty Dozen Brass Band.

GANELIN GONE-ALIN- Vyacheslav Ganelin, the leader of the Ganelin Trio (thanks to Leo Records, perhaps the best-known Soviet jazz group in the West), has applied for, and received, permission to emigrate from the Soviet Union to Israel. He will arrive in Israel early in September and will begin planning his new jazz career in the West. Leo Records still has some Ganelin Trio albums yet to release (including the band's first CD), and they have just put out "Con Amore," Ganelin's first solo album. What this means for the future of the Trio, I do not know.

EUROJAZZ- Stop the presses—the names of the six young European groups (all members under 30 years old) who have been nominated in the International Jazz Federation's Sixth European Jazz Competition have just been announced. In no particular order they are Catalypso (Austria), Pageone (Denmark), The Toon Roos Quartet (Holland), Bad Circuits (Holland), the Jani Malmi Quartet (Finland) and Sprinx (West Germany). The alternates, in case of withdrawal, are the Legrand-Huber-Guettler Trio (West Germany), the Modern String Quartet (West Germany), and French Connection (Switzerland). The jurors are Pawel Brodowski, Lajos Dudas, Mitchell Feldman, Luca Cerchiari, Steve Lake and Bernd Hoffmann.

MORE FESTIVALIA-The Eleventh Russian River Jazz Festival will take place September 12 & 13 at Midway Beach near Guerneville, California. On the slate are Nancy Wilson, Wayne Shorter, Tony Williams, the Timeless All-Satts, Jan Garbarek, Gary Burton/Ralph Towner, Richie Cole/Hank Crawford/Frank Morgan and many others.

The Fourth Richmond Jazz Festival will run from October 3-10 in Richmond, Virginia and will feature Max Roach, the Dirty Dozen Brass Band, the MJQ, Ellis Marsalis, Roberta Flake, Kevin Eubanks and many others.

And the Zurich International Jazz Festival will get Swiss cheers October 29-November 1 as it rolls out the David Murray Big Band, the Willem Breuker Kollektief, the Ornette Coleman Quartet, a John Coltrane memorial band (McCoy Tyner, Elvin Jones, Reggie Workman, Sonny Fortune and Freddie Hubbard) and a whole lot more.

LESTER CREEPS IN - Lester Bowie (r) and Jack DeJohnette caught hanging out N.Y.'s Beacon Theatre, where the trumpeter sat in with the drummer and Special Edition.

BOPPING AROUND NEW YORK- Here's an interesting bunch of coming distractions for Autumn in New York: Antonio Carlos Jobim and Stan Getz will reunite for what should be a sterling night of bossa nova (Avery Fisher Hall, Nov. 23)...Nat Adderley will participate in a concert in tribute to brother Cannonball (Symphony Space, Sept. 12)...Bobby McFerrin will make a very rare club appearance (and a very rare group appearance, he'll have John Scofield and Jack DeJohnette with him) at the Blue Note (Sept. 22-27)...Wynton Marsalis will blow into the same room (Oct. 6-11)...The Reunion of the George Russell Sextet will take place at Sweet Basil (Nov. 17-22)...Charlie Haden's Liberation Music Orchestra will raise the roof at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine (Sept. 12)...A tribute to John Coltrane with Alice Coltrane, sons Ravi and Oran Coltrane, Reggie Workman, Pharoah Sanders and others will fill the same venue (Sept. 26)...And The George Gruntz Concert Jazz Band will make a rare New York appearance (Oct. 8 & 9, Greenwich House).

JAZZ FEATURE PICKS

G-MAN-Sonny Rollins-Milestone M-9150-Producers: Sonny and Lucille Rollins

Awe-inspiring tenor saxophone playing from a man who, when on, is the greatest living jazz improviser. For this live '86 session (taped for the film Sonny Rollins: Saxophone Colossus), he was on. FANCY PANTS / GET TOGETHER / YESSIR, THAT'S MY BABY-Count Basie-Pablo 2310-920/924/923-Producer: Norman Granz

A troika of previously-unreleased sessions from the inexhaustible vaults of Norman Granz, featuring Basie with, respectively, his big band in '83, an alumni octet in '79, and Oscar Peterson in '78. SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION-Barney Kessel-Contemporary C-14033-Producer: Richard Bock

The exceptional mainstream guitarist, who had his greatest success recording for Contemporary in the '50s, returns to the label with a swinging album in the company of the Monty Alexander Trio.

SIROCO-Paco De Lucia-Verve 830-913-Producer: Paco De Lucia

Original flamenco music from a guitarist who has dipped his toe into jazz waters and found the water welcoming indeed. Should find a home in jazz, new age, international and flamenco bins (flamenco bins?).

WINDSOCK-Ric Swanson-American Gramophone 687-Producer: Ric Swanson

Likeable, easy-going fusion sound with guests Larry Coryell and Richie Cole joining the percussionist and his user-friendly band. THE CLARINET FAMILY-Hamiet Bluiett-Black Saint 0097 (dist: PSI)-Producers: Total Foundational Arts, Inc.

Eight-count 'em eight-clarinetists plus rhythm in a rich and melodic set that stays inside most of the way (but not all of the way).

CD SPOTLIGHT

ROSANNE CASH – King's Record Shop – Columbia CK 40777 – Producer: Rodney Crowell

Rosanne Cash's most recent album "King's Record Shop" has just been released by Columbia in compact disc form, and it is brilliant. The full digital recording seems flawless, with no apparent tape hiss clouding the recording. Painstakingly produced by Rodney Crowell (Rosanne's husband), and featuring a stellar cast of top-notch musicians and vocalists, "King's Record Shop" glows with unbelievable energy and force. The meticulous labor put into this LP is evident from the opening topical rocker "Rosie Strikes Back" to the achingly beautiful closing number "Why Don't You Quit Leaving Me Alone." The song selection is impeccable, from Rosanne's confessional "The Real Me" to the rousing "Green, Yellow and Red" and the sensational "Runaway Train." Her rendition of her (her father) Johnny Cash's "Tennessee Flat Top Box" is an extremely enjoyable surprise, and Crowell's "I Don't Have To Crawl" is a masterpiece. Don't let this one pass you by...

PAUL KELLY AND THE MESSENGERS –

Gossip – A&M CD 5157/DX 1676 – Producer: Alan Thorne-Paul Kelly

"Gossip," Australian rocker Paul Kelly's American debut release, is a little masterpiece sure to be discovered by stateside audiences. The disc showcases the many musical styles of Kelly, ranging from the reggae-tinged "Last Train To Heaven" to the country-flavored "White Train." Exceptional cuts include: The Nick Lowe-ish "Before Too Long"; "The Execution" with its driving rock rhythms reminiscent of U2; and the graceful beauty of "Somebody's Forgetting Somebody (Somebody's Letting Somebody Down)." Kelly's soulful, impassioned vocals and masterful songwriting ability grasp one's attention immediately. "Gossip" may prove to be one of the most heartfelt albums released this year. A must for any compact disc collection. Bonus: In addition to the 15 songs contained on the LP, the compact disc contains two extra tracks: "Adelaide" and "Going About My Father's Business."

ON THE CIRCUIT

Talking With Tiffany; Madden Debut; Westwood One

A CONVERSATION WITH TIFFANY
 ... "The first tune I ever learned was 'Delta Dawn' by Helen Reddy, when I was two years old. I used to sing loud and off key over and over again and drive my mom crazy." Tiffany has come a long way since those early crooning days. At age fifteen she is a veritable sensation. She has been singing professionally since she was nine years old and has a newly released album on MCA records.

Her striking beauty and accessible image make her an instant role model for young women. "Basically I like to wear jeans, t-shirts, tennis shoes, big hoop earrings and really unique jean-jackets. If I wore really fancy clothes girls might appreciate it but they wouldn't be able to fully relate to me. If I wear creative outfits that they can imitate without spending too much I can influence them more, kind of like Madonna has done." The thing that make her jackets "unique" are the little embellishments that she adds to them. She likes to decorate her denim with everything from small flags to exotic patches.

Tiffany and her producer, George Tobin, worked in close conjunction in selecting the material and styles on her debut album. "George would say 'give me a Tina Marie attitude, try a Stevie Nicks this time, or let's do a Chaka Kahn.' Then together we would decide which style would work best with each tune." Her versatility can be attributed to her wide range of influences. She was singing country music professionally by the age of nine. At ten, she she appeared on the television show "Fantasy" singing country.

"My mom loves Country and Western and also got me into Stevie Nicks. My Dad on the other hand got me into Chaka Kahn and interested in Jazz. I listen to a lot of funk and soul." Aside from Chaka, Stevie Nicks and Tina Marie - Tiffany lists Luther Vandross, Bill Collins, Bette Midler, Marilyn Scott, and Manhattan Transfer among her favorite musicians to listen to. She is surprisingly clear and articulate for a woman her age.

Since Tiffany is still a student at Leffing Well High School in her hometown of Norwalk, California, her touring is limited to the weekends during the school year. Asked if the schedules conflict, "Not at all. I just do my homework on the plane."

One of the challenges of being such a young performer, however, is how to reach an audience. Since a lot of her fans are also young, the bar or club circuit would not exactly be appropriate. Fortunately a brainstorm by MCA's Larry Solters has helped to solve the dilemma. Tiffany is gaining prominence as the "queen of the mall tours," entertaining shoppers and fans at various mall complexes around the country.

When she arrives at a show a small stage has already been set up for her where she does a lot of dancing and prancing around during her set. She is accompanied by a pre-recorded band enabling her to create concert sound magnitude without interfering with the various shop owners in the mall. In fact they welcome her presence as she brings in a lot of additional clientele. "One of my favorite things to do is to bring old ladies or little kids up on stage to dance with me." This warm-hearted, good-natured quality is winning over a lot of fans.

Tiffany's star quality is now being transferred to the airwaves. Her new single, the second from her album, has debuted at #82 with a strong bullet on the Cash Box pop singles chart last week. This week it has already jumped all the way to #63 with no sign of slowing down. Entitled "I Think We're Alone," many radio stations across the nation have begun adding the tune to their playlists during the past month. She is sure to get major radio exposure in the very near future.

JOHN MADDEN'S ACE SPORTS QUIZ - Clayton Webster Corporation has reached an agreement with Ace Hardware to sponsor its syndicated radio show hosted by sportscaster John Madden. The daily Monday-Sunday ninety second feature is entitled JOHN MADDEN'S ACE SPORTS QUIZ and will debut August 31, 1987 on more than 200 stations nationwide, including: WHIZ (New York), WFAN (New York), WXRT (Chicago), WMMR (Philadelphia), KRQR (San Francisco), WLLZ (Detroit), KLUV (Dallas), KLOL (Houston), WSHE (Miami), WCCO (Minneapolis), KISW (Seattle), KMOX/KHTR (St. Louis), KNUS (Denver), WCCC (Hartford), WLW (Cincinnati), KYYS (Kansas City), WQFM (Milwaukee), and WWL (New Orleans).

JOHN MADDEN'S ACE SPORTS QUIZ will feature the insights and humor of America's best known sports broadcaster, personality interviews, and the actual broadcasts of the greatest moments in sports. JOHN MADDEN'S ACE SPORTS QUIZ is offered on a barter basis to one station in each radio market via an exclusive licensing agreement with Clayton Webster Corporation.

WESTWOOD ONE COMPLETES PURCHASE OF NBC RADIO NETWORKS - Westwood One has completed the purchase of NBC Radio Networks for Fifty-Million Dollars. Norm Pattis, chairman of Westwood One said "This is an important and historic day for Westwood One and NBC. We go forwards as a company with unique strength forged from the alliance of the young and aggressive radio operative and the network that started an entire industry over 60 years ago."

Randy Bonjarten, president of NBC Radio Networks, replied "We are confident that this will be a mutually beneficial relationship certain to provide both many advantages in the years to come."

Tiffany Sparkles On the Airwaves ... Young singing sensation Tiffany has been generating a lot of excitement on her mall tours. Last weekend thousands gathered for her performance in Salt Lake City helping to boost her single, "I Think We're Alone Now" into the top ten in the Salt Lake Area. With her exciting vocal style and warm, vivacious presence, it's just a matter of time before the rest of the country follows suit.

To The Beat Of a Different Drum!

Nashville truly is Music City, U.S.A.. Although most Americans have the impression that Nashville is 90 percent country music, it simply isn't so. True, we are proud of the fact that Nashville is the "home of country music," and probably best known for country. However, all styles and modes of music are written and recorded in Nashville.

In recent years, there has been a strong migration of songwriters to Nashville. They are moving in from both coasts, the heartlands and all points in between. They write all styles of music: pop, jazz, gospel, contemporary Christian, blues, country, etc.. And, yes, we even have arrangers working on "marching" music just in time for the football season!

Arrangers' Publishing Company marches into the fourth successful year! "We've got millions of people marching to our tune, or more appropriately, our tunes," says W. C. Gore, president of Arrangers' Publishing Company of Nashville.

With all of the excitement of a football game half-time show, Arrangers' Publishing Company is heralding the success of three great years of marketing marching band arrangements of quality contemporary songs and evergreens.

"We've got bands in all fifty states marching to the 'Tennessee Waltz,'" Gore relates. Jay Dawson, my partner, arranged a series of songs popularized by gospel superstar Sandi Patti, and it's become one of our hottest items."

Gore, a former high school band director, felt that there was a real need for new, fresh material that didn't exist, according to his research among other directors. He got together with a few major arrangers that leaped at the idea of doing exciting things with hit, pop, country, black, and gospel songs.

Gore gives most of the credit for APC's success to the quality arrangers that have been engaged. "We're using Barry McDonald, Steve Smith, Chris McDonald, Tom Wallace, and other nationally known arrangers. We have over 150 pieces of material in the market place and our 1987 series is the best of all."

"We're selling directly to high schools and colleges, and have our own nationwide dealer distribution network. We're taking different kinds of Nashville music to a lot of

ALBUM REVIEW

T. G. SHEPPARD— One For The Money— Columbia C 40796

T. G. has an uncanny ability to choose the perfect country songs to fit his smooth as satin style. This is the kind of album I would want to fall asleep listening to, and wake up to in the morning. Sheppard makes singing sound so easy. Tempos may vary, but T. G. never seems to strain to make the performance. "Echoes In My Heart" stood out amid the strong. This LP should be in every country music lover's collection.

ALBUM REVIEW

SAWYER BROWN— Somewhere In The Night— Capitol/Curb CLT-46923

The selection on this LP compares to the way Sawyer Brown dresses...quite a variety! Some are tender and some are downright tough. The combined album feeling is one of "attack and retreat", which has been known to be a successful tactic. We enjoyed the off-front vocal harmonies on "Old Photographs", which is a touching country ballad.

OUT OF THE BOX

WAYLON JENNINGS (MCA-53158) Rough And Rowdy Days (2:31) (Waylon Jennings, Tom Collins-BMI) (W. Jennings, R. Murrah) (Producers: J. Bowen, W. Jennings) This is the first single release from Waylon's new album, "A Man Called Hoss." It is a song about Waylon's memories of batching with Johnny Cash when he first moved to Nashville. The arrangement and vocals are purely Waylon Jennings (that style he does so well). But, you can add some "horn" sounds to this one, too. The record has a short play time (2:31), but it is filled up with Waylon at his best!

FEATURE PICKS

T. GRAHAM BROWN (Capitol B-44061) She Couldn't Love Me Anymore (3:13) (Rich Hall, Fame-ASCAP/BMI) (Maddox, Henderson, McGuire) (Producer: B. Logan)

The moving, emotional voice of his T-ness leads the listener on a "lost love" journey. Unique phrasing seems to come so easily to this artist, and he has the ability to "crack" his voice at the perfect time. This one is set to a solid, funky beat in the mid-tempo range. "Bluesy" feel on a country hit!

MERLE HAGGARD & WILLIE NELSON (Epic 34-07400) If I Could Fly (4:15) (Blazy Folley-BMI) (B. Folley) (Producers: M. Haggard, W. Nelson)

Don't worry about the 4:15 play time. You're gonna love every second of it! We dare you to listen only once. Words of description, to relate the performances of these two country legends, are hard to find. A fine song, with subtle Spanish influences, becomes a purely delightful country symphony.

RONNIE ROGERS (MTM B-72094) Good Timin' Shoes (3:40) (Lawyer's Daughter, Ronnie Rogers-BMI) (R. Rogers) (Producer: T. West)

This is Ronnie's first MTM single, and this super songwriter hands us a positive and happy song about getting away from the troubles and hard work of everyday life. Rogers' fine vocal fronts a super production by Tommy West, featuring keyboards in the arrangement. Excellent initial release.

VOLUNTEER JAM XIII ANNOUNCED. Southern rock legend Charlie Daniels (left) is joined by the Volunteer Jam's living logo, Rack Daniels, in greeting reporters recently to announce the Sunday, Sept. 6th, Volunteer Jam XIII at the Starwood Amphitheater in Nashville. Daniels also announced that the legendary Lynyrd Skynyrd Band will be reuniting for their first concert appearance since 1979 at the Jam. Volunteer Jam is one of the most unique and celebrated concert and broadcast events in the world. Volunteer Jam XII drew more than 14,000 fans last summer. It included guest appearances by more than 35 acts performing over 100 songs! Photo by Bill Thorup.

REBA STRIKES GOLD AGAIN! MCA/Nashville recording artist Reba McEntire recently hosted a luncheon for executives of MCA Distribution, who were in Nashville for national meetings. Following the lunch, Reba was presented with a gold album for her "Greatest Hits" LP. It was her third gold album this year. Pictured (l. to r.) are: Bruce Hinton, executive vice president and general manager MCA/Nashville; Bill Carter, Reba's manager; Reba; Bob Schnieders, vice president of branch distribution, MCA; and John Burns, executive vice president of MCA distribution. NASHVILLE NOTE-ABLES

Rattlesnake Annie... Appalachian-Based Blues With Country Infused

Rattlesnake Annie

I could have talked with her all day long. Unfortunately, she didn't have that much time. As it was, I got to spend about 45 fascinating minutes with Rattlesnake Annie. The interview follows. I am printing it in question and answer form so you readers can grasp how deeply Annie is dedicated to her music and her craft.

Q. How would you describe your style of country music?

"I would say Appalachian-based blues..because of where I come from. My hometown is about halfway between Memphis and Nashville. I have worked on stage with everyone from Bill Monroe to The Harlem Blues and Jazz Band and, yet, I'm sure I communicate with the basic country music fan."

Q. I, myself, have referred to you, in print, as the female Willie Nelson. It comes across that way because of the honesty you both have as performers. But, what would you say is different about your styles and writing?

"Well, first, let me thank you for the compliment. I would say the most blatant difference would have to be my Appalachian influence. Willie has some Spanish influence in his music because he grew up close to it. In Texas, you naturally hear more of it growing up. He also has a lot of Texas swing feel. We have a lot in common with the blues, though.

We have often performed together, and it works well. I know we were both influenced by black co-workers when we were young, and the blues became an important ingredient in our musical styles. As a matter of fact, Bill Monroe and I have done duets of blues songs. He's one of the best blues pickers in the world! Most people have no idea that Bill is a fantastic blues man. He even 'scat' sings. I would go through a lot for the opportunity to perform blues with Bill Monroe.

That's music! I'm thankful that I don't have to spend my life trying to make a song that I think someone would buy!"

Q. What type of songs do you enjoy performing, or feel most comfortable performing?

"It totally depends upon a lot of things. I love children's songs, dirges like "Long Black Limosine", humorous songs, and so on. I feel strong emotions about all kinds of songs. When I'm performing, I give myself to the moment! For example, when I went to England, I found they enjoyed my same old songs as well as the crowds do here. Sometimes, I get lost in the music. I just thrill to the lyrics and the melodies! I spend a lot of time in Spain because I love to study Flamenco music. My musical interests vary widely.

I don't ever remember not performing. I had a trio, with my cousins, and we were the community singers. We played weddings, funerals, and community gatherings of all sorts. So, you see, we had to perform all types of songs, even back then. There was always the vision of being a professional musician. It beat the alternative...farm work at home."

Q. Who has been the biggest musical influence in your life?

"Willie Nelson. He was not only an influence because of his writing and music. He is such an individual with his marketing, presentations, and charitable dedications."

Just to see how deeply Annie thinks (and I could tell she was a deep thinker), I asked the following question, which always gives me some feedback on individuals.

Q. If you could invite any three people, from the past or present, to dinner and conversation, who would they be, and why?

"Ghandi; because I would like to talk with him about his philosophies. I would enjoy learning more of his knowledge and beliefs.

Jesus; because I'd like to 'have a little talk with Jesus.' Of course, I would want to find out as much about Him as possible.

Melina Mercouri (former actress who is now the minister of culture for the government of Greece); because she has always been one of the most powerful spokespeople for women's rights and human rights."

Oh, yes. Rattlesnake Annie is much more than a country girl who sings the blues. She's a very wise lady the whole world can use!

ALPHABETICAL LISTING ON INSIDE BACK COVER

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

STENMARK-MUELLER BAND (Envelope NV-7004) Lover To Lover (Time unlisted) (April Blackwood, Fullness-BMI) (J. Fuller, J. Hobbs) (Producer: J. Fuller)

This is certainly one fine Indie product! It features an outstanding male/female vocal duet on a beautiful song. Clear, crisp production presents the smooth, easy-listening composition in a perfect manner. The arrangement builds and flows to a strong chorus. Our review panel was very impressed and voted the Stenmark-Mueller Band our Indie Spotlight by unanimous decision.

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

DOLLY HARTT (Kass KR-7-2488) Ain't No Easy Way Out (2:35) (Peer-Talbot, -BMI) (V. Gossett) (Producers: A. Kitchen, B. Vaughn)

Dolly Hartt shows her versatility by movin' and groovin' on this release. Good beat song with sax fills and lead guitar ride. Dolly is joined in her strong vocal performance by a bottomless bass singer and a "spiritual soul" soprano in the background. Effective product and a good chart bet.

SILVER (Southern Tracks ST-1085) Play Anything By George Jones (3:19) (Morehead, Lowery-BMI) (J. A. Charping) (Producer: P. Cook)

The melody sounds familiar, but that's a good sign. Good, solid country vocal. Storyline about a lady who asks the band to play a request... "anything by George Jones." Solid pickers back up the vocal, here. Appealing country.

LYNNE WILSON (Envelope NV-7005) A Good Thing Going Wrong (2:47) (Tree-BMI) (H. Howard, M. Berg) (Producers: D. Johnson, J. Powers, C. Freeman)

After a light and airy intro, Lynne starts singing some heavy lyrics in this "let's save our love" song idea. Lynne Wilson has a country sound which is a rarity... best described as "ala Lacy J...." Mid-tempo release with harmony fullness in the chorus. Lynne seems very comfortable with the song.

new venues." Gore's assistant, Jeff Hearington, says that writers, publishers and arrangers have been really excited about another area of exploitation of their works and another source of revenue, namely educational print. Gore says he always thought it was ironic that... "in a town where the two biggest industries were printing and music, no major marketer of printed music existed."

With exciting new arrangements of "Rocky Top," "Hey! Baby!," "Rock 'n Roll Hoochie Koo," "Rockin' Robin," "T For Texas," and many more, here comes Arrangers' Publishing Company marching right down Music Row to every high school and college bandroom all over America!

NEW PLAYERS

Indie Ink...

Avista Records has announced the upcoming release of Adam Baker's "Standing Invitation." This will be his fourth single on the label. In recent months, Baker has kept a busy schedule of touring and personal appearances. Through his affiliation with World Class Talent earlier this year, he has excelled his booking activities and personal appearances.

RCP recording artist, Bonnie Leigh, is set to film her debut music video for her upcoming release "Let's Go Moonwalking." She has just returned from England and Europe where she, along with officials of her management company, Coke-El, set the wheels in motion for international booking and record distribution.

Canyon Creek recording artist, Rosemary Sharp, just completed an extensive tour of radio stations in the United States and Canada in support of her current single "Real Good Heartache." Now back in her hometown of Ft. Worth, Texas, Rosemary is putting the finishing touches to her debut Canyon Creek album with Bart Barton at their production helm.

A. J. Masters recently taped his debut appearance on The Nashville Network's "New Country" show. The show is scheduled to air September 10th and features selections from this debut Bermuda Dunes album "Back Home", and his current nationally charted single "255 Harbor Drive." Black Hat recording artist, Rusty Wier, recently headlined the world famous Austin, Texas Aquafest. Wier performed selections from his album "Kum-Bak Bar And Grill" and his new single "Lover Of The Other Side Of The Hill." Joe Henderson

DARK HORSE CONSENSUS

BOBBY G. RICE - You Lay So Easy On My Mind - Door Knob U-19720 WAGI, WKCW, WASP, WSDS, KFGO and KYKX were only a few of the stations giving Bobby G. Rice the Dark Horse pick this week. Bobby has a good habit of producing good products, and this release is certainly showing strong for Bobby, again.

THE SMITHS

EMI seem to be the only ones pleased about The Smiths split. A&R head Nick Gatfield said, "Both Morrissey and Johnny Marr have signed on the dotted line. Every contract has a clause which gives the label the rights to any work they do whether or not the band splits up. Essentially, we now have to act for the price of one."

A statement was issued on behalf of The Smiths, giving full confirmation that Johnny Marr, guitarist and composer, has quit the band. They say they are currently selecting a new guitarist. The statement stresses "the concept of The Smiths will remain the same and the group will continue to promote their forthcoming single and album releases and are eager to plan live dates once a new guitarist has been selected."

Marr denies that the split was acrimonious. It seems to be down to the infamous musical differences although he says, "I've got absolutely no problem with what The Smiths are doing. The new stuff is the best we've ever done. I'm really proud of it. But there are things that I want to do that can only happen outside The Smiths. There is nothing approaching acrimony between myself and the other members of the band. I've known them all a long time and I love them. There is no truth in the idea that Morrissey has any problem with the company I keep, personally or workwise."

However, one potential source of acrimony could be yet to emerge: the use of the name The Smiths. Marr was genuinely surprised when informed that Morrissey intended to continue using it, but decided, "I think that's probably tied up with a lot of legal things." Marr intends to get back into public view as soon as possible. "I've already recorded some stuff and it's gone very well. There's every chance that I'll be forming a permanent group." There was even a rumor that Marr was to join Paul McCartney on tour, but both Marr and McCartney's camp refused to comment on the possibility...

Public Image Limited have gathered new members and are putting out a new album. Their new single is called "Seattle."

"It's nothing to do with Seattle, really," said drummer Bruce Smith, former Pop Group and Rip, Rig and Panic. "It's just that we wrote it in about 10 minutes. Seattle is the epitome of low-life."

Interviewing Johnny Lydon was a traumatic experience. After 20 minutes of being abused by him I finally insulted him back and he said he was too bored to continue the interview and left. He returned half an hour later under pressure from his press officer and a diplomatic expedition from Smith, and did a quick slagging session of Malcom McLaren, Joe Strummer and The Beastie Boys. Not very interesting, really, but the record is quite good and his new hairstyle, with bits of orange synthetic fur wired into it, is very amusing...

Dieter Meier, vocalist with Swiss duo Yello (Phonogram), bumped into Shirley Bassey in a supermarket—they are next-door neighbors in Switzerland. The result is the very divine single, "The Rhythm Divine." Meier was previously a professional gambler, and his life still involves a certain amount of risk-taking, which may explain why he has just chosen to be managed by the anarchic Steve, head of Some Bizarre Records and manager to Marc Almond and Matt Johnson.

Meier is also involved in making a film, writing a book, and installation artwork...

Gene Loves Jezebel (Beggars Banquet/Geffen) have just completed their new album at Richard Branson's Manor Studios in Oxfordshire. The single "Notion of Love" is the usual mesmerizingly emotional stuff. The band are about to embark on their American tour. Twin Michael Alston said, "I'm much happier in America because at least we are appreciated there. In England, people only want to talk about our image and complain that we wear make-up. Yet, at the same time, they see us as something dark and gothic, when really we are colorful and joyous."

Brother Jay said, "It will take us a long time to be recognized. We have to wait for the people who support us to move up the scale into positions of power. I take refuge in the fact that in the '70s the NME put Jethro Tull on the cover a long time before they took Marc Bolan on..."

The major heavy metal event of the year will be held next week. This year's Donnington is sponsored by Harp Lager. Acts to appear include Cinderella, Wasp, Anthrax, Metallica, Dio, with Bon Jovi headlining the event. Promoters are already in a panic that this year's number of forged tickets will exceed last year's.

Argentinian News

BUENOS AIRES—The latest album by Julio Iglesias, "Un Hombre Solo", is enjoying very strong sales after a successful promo visit by Iglesias to Argentina. Iglesias starred on a Channel 13 tv program and CBS hosted a party at the Mau Mau discotheque with the entire press corps on hand. Alberto Caldeiro, Sergio Garcia and Hugo Piombi, CBS execs, traveled recently to Vancouver, Canada, to attend an International CBS gathering where they unveiled their newest products.

Vicente Justo Amorena of Distribuidora Belgrano Norte reports the signing of a contract with Daniel Grinbank to distribute his new label, DG Discos, which includes both local and international product. The first launching includes the first album by local group Duna and British artists The Boshoi. Grinbank has produced records in the past, but ceased his activities in this field after a serious slump in sales, two years ago.

Sicamericana's Horacio Serto reports strong promotion work after the first album by Alejandro Vezzani, well known composer turned singer. Vezzani is in the melodic-pop field and his product is considered of international value; a tv special has been recorded, along with several video clips with the main tunes from the album.

It is understood that Interdisc will again be distributed by EMI, after some time with IPC, the indie distribution network. Interdisc filed for bankruptcy last year but has managed to reestablish itself and appears to have a future under the direction of Ruben Aprile; EMI distributed the label some time ago but ties were severed following a divergence of opinion that seems to have been resolved for now.

RCA has appointed Jorge Alvarez as its new A&R manager; Alvarez helped start more than twenty years ago, the local rock movement with his label Mandioca, after rocking the scene with an indie book publishing house. Afterwards he traveled to Spain and has been producing records and working for the industry in Madrid. He is considered a bright talent and will probably help to develop new artists for the affiliate of Bertelsmann/Ariola in this country.

Microfon's president Mario Kaminsky reports that the new album by Herald Bosio is selling strongly, while his previous effort is still appearing on the charts. Microfon also has a hit with the second LP by tv actor Juan Carlos Calabro posing as a singer, which surprised the market with good figures.

Japan

TOKYO—Osamu Sato, a managing-director of Victor Musical Industries, has been selected as the president of "BMG Victor Co., Ltd." which has been newly established as a joint company of Nippon Victor (JVC) and BMG Music Co., Ltd. (BMG is Bertelsman Music Group). The new company will start operations on Sept. 21, 1987. The company will produce rock, pop, new music and other Japanese traditional music along with other international music licensed by RCA, Arista and Motown. At the same time, Rudolf Gassner has been nominated as the chairman of the board of directors. Concurrent with the start of the new company, RVC Co., Ltd. (president of Shu Kaneko) will be dissolved and its business will be transferred to the new company. The company will be located at Shibuya-ku in Tokyo and its operating capital is 450,000,000 yen ($3,000,000) by investments shared equally by JVC and BMG Music.

According to a survey conducted by the Cash Box Tokyo office, sales reported by the four main record dealers in Japan in July, 1987 remained steady with a 3-5% increase over last year. "Yasuna", a big retailer in Omiya a suburb of Tokyo, however, reported that the sales dropped 20% from last year. Incidentally, the four main dealers surveyed were Daiichi-Gakki (Sendai), Yasuna (Omiya), Jujita (Tokyo) and Akoya-Gakki (Osaka).

Artists showing splendid sales this month are Misato Watanabe, Haund Dog, Shonentay, Yoko Ogonome and the late Yujiro Ishihara.

get the mass acceptance and big hits critics and bizzers have predicted for them, they have had enormous influence on both the underground and overground. The Ramones eponymous first album in 1976 lit a fire beneath the rock 'n' roll throne, forcing fat superacts to get back to basics and rekindle the original spirit of rock 'n' roll. X too was influenced by the Ramones, but they took it several steps further, fusing thrash with hillbilly harmonies, poetic lyrics, and even pre-punk sounds. Somehow, though, it just didn't add up at the cash register.

"Commercial success isn't the most important thing to us," says vocalist Joey Ramone. "We're more concerned with upholding our integrity, our high ideals. Maintaining your self-respect: that's most important to us, being the best, not selling ourselves short or selling-out our audience. That's everybody else's goal, it seems, everybody else is in it for the money and we're in it for the love of rock 'n' roll basically."

X's Exene Cervenka and John Doe also put the integrity of their music ahead of mass success. "I don't think mainstream success is the issue. Mainstream success is really terrifying - isn't that where people recognize you on the street and stuff? I think something like a few more people liking us or knowing about us is good," says Cervenka.

Still, they are among the few bands that have outlived the scenes that spawned them. The common denominator seems to be brilliant songwriting, and that perhaps has enabled both groups to transcend the period fashion of any particular decade. "I think our song structure is why we're still here and other bands aren't," says Doe. "Abandoning the loud fast rules has always been a part of us - we'll do it and won't do it. And that's why some quote punk rock bands didn't like us from the beginning."

"We don't include filler," says Joey

Ramone. "Everything we do has to be the best it can be. Usually there's about twenty-five, thirty-five songs written and we pick out the twelve or fifteen strongest songs."

Indeed, with nine studio albums to their credit, The Ramones have amassed one of the most enduring song catalogues of the past ten years. We posed a hypothetical question: If the Ramones' master tapes were going to be burned tomorrow and he had to salvage five songs, which ones would he choose?

"I guess I'd salvage the earlier stuff because, as it is, a lot of those albums are out of print," says Joey Ramone. "Maybe not in America but in England, Canada. 'Glad To See You Go.' 'Carbana Not Glue.' 'Sheena.' 'I Don't Care,' I'd salvage that one. We gotta salvage the classics: 'Beat On The Brat,' 'Blitzkrieg Bop.' How many do we have now - four? (laughs) I guess a lot of people would think 'Pinhead's gotta be salvaged. I guess it should be but that's not one of my top five, even though it should be. So I've gotta give you six, or somebody's gonna be mad at me."

X's Doe and Cervenka have also come up with their share of '80's classics, though one of "See How We Are"'s best songs, "Fourth Of July," was penned by Dave Alvin, the ex-Blaster who briefly joined X when guitarist Billy Zoom left last year (he's been replaced by Lone Justice's Tony Gilkyson). Still, there is no dearth of stunning Cervenka/Doe compositions on the album, as one listen to "I'm Lost," "In The Time It Takes," and the title track would prove.

The groups are currently touring (separately), with X slated to co-headline with Warren Zevon this fall after a series of European shows with The Call and 10,000 Maniacs. The Ramones are also on tour, performing with a new drummer, ex-Blondie Clem Burke, who has replaced Richie Reinhardt.

lyrics and plans to make even more active contributions to her next project. Her enthusiasm glows brightly, the wide-eyed teen admits that the sudden exposure and attention are a new sensation. Shanice confessed "Sometimes I get a little nervous, but it's all very exciting"

All this work sometimes proved a little trying for Shanice, she remembered "There were times that I would plan to go out with my friends, then something would pop up and I would have to go back to the studio. It's a lot of work, it's hard." "But," she concluded with a giggle "I love it! Sometimes I can't believe it, it's like a dream."

CELEBRATION - BMI threw a congratulations party for singer/songwriter Eddie Chacon whose first Columbia Records single, a remake of The Beatles' "All You Need Is Love," was released August 19. Celebrating with Chacon were friends from both BMI and his publishing and management company, SBK Entertainment. Pictured above are (l-r): Victoria Clare, creative director, SBK; Chacon; and DeDe Sugar, BMI's executive writer/publisher relations.

Orphan Pacts With Profile

NEW YORK-Detroit's Orphan Records has entered into an exclusive pressing and distribution deal with New York's Profile Records. The initial two-year agreement will kick off with the release of three Orphan projects: Bridgett Grace's "Just a Memory," Siri Lini's "You Make Me Come Alive," and Marcus's "Monkey on My Back." Additionally, the label has formed a video arm, Orphan Eyes Video.

with a large number of retailers. We have not closed any of those arrangements because it's a little premature for us. We only have the four machines, at most, in November."

Enigma is excited about the potential for marketing their lesser known acts through the system, and they are planning to utilize the visibility in retail outlets to increase consumer awareness. "We're always looking for new avenues to market our products," stated Hein. "I think we're going to see ourselves doing specials, doing different things built around the Personics system. If we find we're wasting marketing time, then we'll rethink it."

The possibility of consumers making "best of" tapes using only singles, instead of purchasing the 7" vinyl product, is a problem that Hein is prepared for, but Enigma is not particularly worried about losing these sales to Personics tapes. Hein commented "In the first couple of months we'll find out if people are focusing in on our main artists and whether these things are crowding out sales of other records. I really don't think these things are going to cannibalize other sales. We might lose some single sales, but singles are our loss leader anyway."

Around The Route

By Camille Compasio

In the aftermath of the big 'flood of '87' which clobbered Chicago and suburbs the weekend of August 14-16, things are just about back to normal but the horror stories continue. As we reported in last week's column, there was so much devastation and millions of dollars in losses incurred both by private citizens as well as business owners; but, fortunately enough, most of the coin-op manufacturers and distributors we contacted suffered minimal, if any, damage. Absenteeism was actually one of the major set-backs, since the combination of flooding at home compounded by the closing down of flood ravaged streets, expressways, etc. made it impossible for people to get to work. It took Memetron's Tom Campbell over 3 hours to get from his home to the Memetron facilities in Lombard, IL but he made it and was grateful for the fact that the building was totally unharmed by the flood...Atlas Dist. Inc. in Chicago saw what was happening as the rains continued, got someone out to check the flat roof, correct the leakage and the result was maybe a few drops of water but no real damage at all...The docks at the Bally/LS Inc. facilities in Cicero, IL were flooded but shipments were hampered for only a day and there was no other damage...At World Wide Dist. in Chicago, there was no structural damage but a lot of employees couldn't make it to work...A similar situation prevailed at American Vending Sales in Wood Dale, IL...Let us now put this terrible experience to rest and hope that the next time the area makes history it will be for 90 degree temperatures in the month of February!

Initial shipments of the new Data East "Laser War" pingame began on August 24 and deliveries will continue until about the first week of November at which time the factory will concentrate on the foreign market. As explained by Data East Pinball exec Jeff Walker, since this is the company's debut pin offering, the feeling is it's more sensible to service the U.S. market first.

Made a call to Rock-Ola's executive veepee Bette Lockhart to try to get some info on their impending compact disc jukebox we've been hearing about. "Is it true Rock-Ola will be introducing a cd/combo unit at AMOA Expo '87?" we asked. "No comment," was Bette's reply, "but you're welcome to come out to our distributors meeting in Tucson."

What's new at Exidy? Well, to quote Virginia Kauffman, "our next gun system is on the planning board...but you'll have to wait until AMOA Expo to see it." Right now, The Rainbow Machine which dispenses condoms as well as other products) has everyone's attention out there - and Virginia tells us it's moving very well...As a matter of fact, Cash Box did a little checking

Valley Intro's Four Player Cricket

CHICAGO-The Valley Company announced the introduction of an exclusive four-player version of Cricket as an option for its new "Cougar" and "Royal Darts" electronic dart machines-and in easy to install kit form for units already in the field.

In designing its concept of this popular steel tip game, Valley has combined state-of-the-art technology with the features the serious dart players have been requesting. For example, one to four players can select conventional Cricket or the very popular, challenging game of "Cut-Throat" Cricket. Players' progress in closing out segments and racking up points is brilliantly illuminated in the high intensity LED overhead display; and there's Valley's exclusive double bull selector which adds up to true Cricket excitement.

For further information and referrals to authorized distributors contact The Valley Company, P.O. Box 656, Bay City, MI 48707.

Sue Jarocki To SNK

CHICAGO - Paul Jacobs, president of SNK Corporation of America, announced the appointment of Susan Jarocki to the position of Product Manager/Marketing Administrator for the coin-op division.

Ms. Jarocki most recently held a similar position with Data East U.S.A., and previously worked in the manufacturing field on the staff of Nomac, Ltd. In addition, she has held administrative positions on the distributing level of the coin-op industry with Atari Distributing and Atlas Distributing, both in Chicago, Illinois. She began her coin-op career as an arcade manager in the Chicago area.

Commenting on the appointment Jacobs stated, "We look forward to Sue making strong contributions to our company both in product development and related sales and marketing functions. Her experience in all phases of the industry - manufacturing, distributing and operating - is a big plus, and we're pleased she has joined our team."

The Dollars And Sense Of Business Promotions - Part VI

By Roger Sharpe

(Ed Note: This is the sixth in a continuing series that appears regularly in Cash Box, the purpose of which is to provide operators with practical guidelines and suggestions for improving their businesses)

So far this series has attempted to give very specific and practical information for improving business and bottomline returns that go beyond the simple activity of uncrating a new machine and plugging it in. Obviously, there is a need for a greater use and understanding of basic marketing and sales promotion techniques that can appreciably impact your revenues and draw in store traffic.

And, instead of following up on the last installment that addressed video game promotion (Cash Box, 6/27/87), the feeling of this writer was that the time was right to interrupt the flow of this series with some fundamental observations of how to best maximize your efforts so that they can be successful.

Interestingly, most of the contests, tournaments or benefits that you might want to stage are only going to attract your core audience of players. This is especially true if you leave your publicity to some simple posters or announcements on site. The assumption in this scenario is that your customers will notice the signage and ask for more information about the particular event. Secondly, that these same individuals will then pass the word along to their friends who will do likewise until the surrounding area is informed regarding what will be taking place.

However, this assumption also means that you, ultimately, lose control of the proceedings before you even get a chance to begin. And, unfortunately, you might not be stimulating 'new' business into your location. One of the standard fallacies is that any type of 'extra activity' unto itself will bring in more revenue and

NAMA's October Convention In Philly Is Almost Sold Out

CHICAGO - All but a handful of the available 230 exhibit spaces have been sold for this year's NAMA national convention-exhibit, which is scheduled for October 29 to November 1, at the Philadelphia Civic Center, according to Jack Rielley, NAMA director of sales.

"By early August we had space reservations from 31 new exhibitors and I am confident that we'll have a sellout of available space," Rielley Announced.

NAMA president G. Richard Schreiber noted that early registration interest and hotel reservations also point to a large turnout of vending and food service contractor specialists for the four-day convention.

Under the theme "Targeting on Profitability", the four days of business meetings will be preceded by a pre-convention seminar on October 28. Presented by Bill Casey of Paris/Casey, Inc. (New York City), the seminar will focus on employee motivation. Participation will be limited to 48 NAMA operator members and the fee will be $95.

Convention events will begin with the NAMA annual meeting on Thursday, October 29, featuring NAMA board chairman Merrill Krakauer and Leo Cherne, executive director of the Research Institute of America, as keynote speakers.

Other program features will zero in on marketing, public relations, sales promotion and developing a service attitude. Besides presentations by featured guest speakers and panelists, these topics will also be covered in round-table discussions around and learned that twelve Rainbow machines were recently installed on two college campuses in Marin County (Northern California).

Konami veepee Stephen Kaufman items that the current sellers out there are the "Boot Camp" upright and all three versions of "WEC LeMans". As for future releases, between now and October 1, Konami will be introducing three new games. One is "Dark Adventure", a 3-player, dedicated interactive adventure game. A new kit called "MX 5000" will be coming out within the next week or so. The game theme is basically a shoot-'em-up type air combat portrayal where the player engages in air, ground and sea combat. The third piece, "Blades Of Steel", is a dedicated sports game involving hockey and, as Steve told us, "We did a lot of interesting new things on 'Double Dribble' and we've gone a similar route with 'Blades Of Steel', so you will see some unique features on this game." Watch for 'em!

increase the awareness and exposure of a given operation. But, for the most part, unless there is a methodical, well-thought out plan, much of what is accomplished is to only reinforce the dedication of your current market base, while only moderately broadening your pass-through, transient audience.

The challenge, then, becomes one of expanding the scope of how you announce and promote any given activity so that you're attracting new individuals who might not otherwise frequent your establishment. And how to do this in an economical fashion is an issue that often intimidates most owners who feel that all of the details are beyond their comprehension or ability.

In point of fact, what I am about to suggest is a program that is extremely easy to coordinate and implement if you are truly open to staging an event of any size at your location. simply stated, what you need to do is to contact the local media and have them pre-publicize the fact that something will be taking place. Above and beyond your own in-store announcements, this is the simplest way to utilize a network that exists which will be more than willing to work with you. All it takes, surprisingly, is a telephone call or letter to the local print and broadcast media. You don't need an expensive public relations company to do the work or some other 'extra' body to accomplish a professional approach that will deliver results. And it doesn't matter if you're in a major metropolitan area, a suburban location or a small town - the potential still exists to take advantage of an invaluable resource.

Most local newspapers have event calendars posting concerts, benefits, and a range of activities. Your program can get this same lineage once you contact the reporter or editor who is responsible for putting the section together. If you're not good at writing letters, then place a telephone call and alert the reporter to your business so that you might meet and inform him/her of what will be taking place. The same thing holds true for the broadcast, news media, that might not only report on your upcoming activity but also do a follow-up or "at-the-scene" coverage.

You will be amazed at how responsive these people are in not only getting stories that are newsworthy, but also in aiding your cause of staging something that is going to be exciting for the community at large. And more importantly is the personal relationships that can develop for future use when you decide to do another promotion. Add in the potential of tying in with some other local businesses for prizes (as we have discussed previously in this series) and you suddenly have mobilized an impressive force that will gain the exposure and media support.

But your starting point goes back to a simple letter or phone call stating your plans to hold an event at a specific time and letting the process take over from there. One last point regarding this matter, however, needs to be covered and that is the publishing world's ongoing concern of "lead times." This involves the necessary advanced word that a magazine, newspaper, or even a television or radio station needs to have in order to do you and themselves any good. If you contact someone a day before your event is about to happen, there might not be enough advanced notice for the press to react. And in terms of generating more people to come to the event, obviously you're not going to get the type of impact that is easily attainable if you plan ahead and let things unfold in a sequential manner weeks, or even months, ahead.

So help yourself in staging a promotion and utilize the resources that are available to ease your burden and gain you greater visibility. And next time, we'll continue with more specifics regarding the staging of events to particular machine categories, as well as leagues, and how everything can make dollars and sense for your business operations.

PGD's 'American Speedway' Kit

"American Speedway", a 1 or 2 player simultaneous driving game, is the latest kit from Progressive Game Distributors, Inc. of El Cajon, California. The game begins with a qualifying round, where the player must complete 5 laps within 30 to 45 seconds (operator selectable through a dip switch) in order to qualify for the race. Players must then beat all of the computer controlled cars in order to move on to the next race. The game offers 13 tracks with increasing difficulty levels and different features to provide challenge and realism.

As the game progresses, players must pick up "S's" and "T's" that appear on the track for extra speed and traction. The extra speed and traction are needed in the later races since the difficulty increases for each one; and there are also bonus points which appear randomly on the tracks for pick-up.

There are four cars on the screen at all times. In the one player mode, the player races against 3 computer controlled drone cars. When two players are involved they race against 2 computer controlled drone cars. During the course of play you can bump and overtake the other cars but caution must be exercised because the other cars can also bump you.

American Speedway has 4 difficulty settings that are operator selectable. The kit includes complete steering wheel assembly, CPU board, side graphics, plexi glass marquee, monitor bezel, control panel lexan, complete harness and gas pedal assembly. A manual with complete assembly instructions is also included.

The kit comes as a generic kit for any horizontal games or as a retrofit kit for the Dynamo system cabinet.

Further information may be obtained through factory distributors or by contacting Progressive Game Distributors, Inc. at 1985 Friendship Drive, Suite J, El Cajon, Ca 92020.

on October 30 and 31, according to G.H. Tansey, director of conventions and education.

Schreiber will address the convention on development of cashless vending systems, concentrating on progress made and expected in debit card applications to vending machines. Marketing Professors Don Webb and Chuck Parsons of the University of Missouri and sales consultant Nancy Hightshoe will speak on October 30, followed the next day by David Schmidt, specialist on developing "service attitudes and commitment." NAMA public relations director Walter W. Reed will present a seminar on developing vending company sales literature, on the closing day of the convention.

Among this year's highlights will be a luncheon, on Saturday, honoring G. Richard Schreiber, who will retire in December as chief executive of NAMA after a combined career with NAMA, and as publisher of Vend Magazine since the mid-1940's.

Tansey advised that NAMA is operating a central hotel reservations bureau from its Chicago headquarters and special travel discounts have been arranged with United and Delta Airlines.

Geraldine M. Zahn, owner of K&Z Garden State Vending, Inc. (South River, NJ) is general chairperson and Peter Wechsler, of Vend-Rite Service Corp. (Bristol Township, PA) is program chairman.

There is no registration fee for NAMA members. Nonmember operators are charged $35 per person and the fee for manufacturers and suppliers is $75 for the first person and $50 each for additional persons.

For additional information contact the NAMA headquarters office at 20 N. Wacker Drive, Chicago, IL 60606 or phone the association at (312) 346-0370.
